Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (CPSIA)

St. Louis, MO
December, 2009

VSG Inc. an industry leader in CD and DVD manufacturing issues this General Conformity Statement in reference to its compliance status with the CPSIA of 2008.

VSG has been working with our industry partners, safety specialists, our suppliers, and our customers in an effort to meet the applicable compliance requirements as specified in the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 (CPSIA) that was signed into law effective August 2008. This newly enacted legislation contains both certification and testing requirements specified for children's products, toys and child care articles. On January 30th 2009 the CPSC issued a Stay of Enforcement of the new legislation for one year for many products.

Although it is unclear at this time whether VSG Inc. products fall under this regulation, it has nonetheless chosen a proactive path and has had its products tested for compliance. VSG Inc. manufactured and distributed products have completed testing for compliance / certification as a "Children's Product" defined specifically by the CPSIA as a "consumer product designed or intended primarily for children 12 years of age or younger". The testing was completed on a wide matrix of products and packaging configurations selected to ensure that all potential product configurations will be covered via the certification results. All testing has been completed in conjunction with CSPC approved third party laboratories and the results indicate that each of the aforementioned products meet all of the lead content thresholds as defined in the CPSIA Act of 2008.

VSG Inc. is also working with our supply chain partners to verify that the consumables and raw materials utilized in our final product configurations are below the CPSIA-specified limits for lead content. Please note that the aforementioned compliance requirements and disclosure only pertain to products manufactured from this date forward.

The CPSIA also requires VSG Inc. to verify that all customer supplied materials will meet the requirements as defined in the CPSIA of 2008. Based on this requirement all new submissions of customer supplied materials that are intended for children 12 years of age or younger can only be accepted for use if the customer provides a copy of the conformity certificate for each item submitted.
